Mrs. Ellis Attends Conference

Winona Ellis, manager of the local office of the Department of Employment, represented the Torrance office at the Department of Employment management conference in Sacramento September 27, 28 and 29, it was announced today.

Stressing the theme "Public Is Our Business," the three-day conference featured state and national experts in employment security administration.

Highlights of the meeting included an address by Governor Goodwin J. Knight at the laying of the cornerstone of the department's new headquarters building in Sacramento September 28.

The part which the Department of Employment will play in manpower mobilization in the event of national emergency occupied a prominent place on the agenda, as did studies of current economic trends and their administrative implications.

H. W. Stewart, Director of Employment, was general chairman for the conference, assisted by W. A. (Jimmie) Hicks, deputy director of the Department.

WHAT'S DOING

R. S. Pyle, your Telephone Manager in Torrance

Down to the Sea in Ships

(Pacific Telephone congratulates the men and women of the Harbor area, who lend their efforts to making the Fishermen's Fiesta one of the outstanding events of the nation).

On Saturday and Sunday, October 1-2, one of the most interesting and important events of the Fall period in Southern California will be held—the 9th annual Fishermen's Fiesta. On Saturday and Sunday, October 1 and 2, one-quarter million people will come to San Pedro, Los Angeles Harbor, to witness and participate in the gigantic fish fry, folk dancing, witness the beautiful and solemn blessing of the fishing boats and the men who go down to the sea in ships—the fishermen.

The People of the Harbor area have nominated the daughters or nieces of fishermen for the titles of Skiperette of the Fishermen's Fiesta and Mates of the Fiesta. Three beautiful and charming young girls have been judged and selected as the fairest of the fishing industry—and will be on hand to greet the visitors who visit this outstanding event.

A Great Industry Grows

The fishing industry, with headquarters in Los Angeles Harbor, is the fourth largest industry in the State of California and pours between 150-million and 200-million dollars of new wealth into the Southland.

More than 2,000 fishing boats comprise the fishing fleet, and some 5,000 fishermen and as many cannery workers pool their efforts and abilities to provide the fish that grace the tables of the American family. Your telephone company is happy to play a role in the growth and expansion of the Fishing Industry. Every hour of the day and night the services of the Telephone Company are available to this great industry, which is honored each year by the Fishermen's Fiesta.

Industry Takes Time to Recall The Spiritual Values of Men

The blessing of the fleet and the men who go down to the sea in ships—the fishermen—marks the high point of the Fishermen's Fiesta.

On Sunday, October 2nd, the day begins with the celebration of Solemn High Mass in Mary Star of the Sea Church in San Pedro. A procession of members of the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church, clergy, choir, fishermen and other laymen of the community moves to Fishermen's Wharf following the Mass. Here at Fishermen's Wharf are assembled the representatives of national, state, county and city government, prominent business and professional men—and, together with thousands of visitors—the blessing of the fishing boats and the men who man them is bestowed. At its conclusion scores of gaily decorated fishing boats move away from the dock and head for the open harbor. Truly a beautiful and symbolic ceremony.

Chest Chairman Issues Call For 716 Volunteers

Phillip Lisman, Torrance Community Chest campaign chairman, today called for 716 volunteers in Torrance to join in the Chest's crusade of "preventative financing."

Volunteers from Torrance will form part of the 88,000 Red Feather workers called for recently by W. Herbert Allen, campaign chairman for all Los Angeles.

"Torrance raised 95.72 per cent of its Chest goal last year, and we're going to make it 100 per cent or higher this year," Lisman said. "Money speaks louder than words... but so do deeds. Community Chest dollars are there because of Community Chest volunteers."

Leadership recruitment in Torrance is 100 per cent to date, according to Lisman, but some chairmen and committeemen are still needed, as well as large numbers of business and residential volunteer workers.

Lisman endorsed Allen's recent statement that this number of fund-raisers is needed to help stem the rising tide of public and private expense for health, welfare and recreation services.

Raise Money To Save Money
"It may sound illogical that we must raise money to keep from spending so much money," said Allen, who is chairman of the board, Title Insurance & Trust company.

"But reliable estimates are that this year our City, County, State, Federal, and voluntarily contributed funds for health, welfare, and recreation services in Los Angeles County will reach one-third of a billion dollars.

Preventive Service
"The comparatively few dollars the Chest seeks are directed largely to preventative services which tend to cut down this tremendous expenditure," Allen said.

Commerce and industry solicitation in Torrance, under the direction of John Ebbinghouse, is already underway, with a kickoff rally held September 21st. Advance gifts, headed by Dr. Joseph P. Bay, is scheduled next.

Campaign leaders are enrolling volunteers through the P.T.A., churches, clubs, employee groups, and business and professional organizations. Torrance residents who do not have the opportunity to join through their membership in an organization, Lisman said, may volunteer by calling TE 2-0331, Red Feather campaign headquarters.
